Demand Death Penalty for High Nazi Leaders

NUERNBERG—(UP)—Robert H. Jackson, chief American prosecutor, today called upon the war crimes tribunal to convict 22 ranking Nazis on charges of war guilt and crimes which the British prosecution charged included a minimum of 12,000,000 "calculated, deliberate murders."

The prosecution, led by Jackson, opened the summation of eight months of testimony against 22 top Nazis, including Martin Bormann who is being tried in absentia although he may be dead.

Jackson did not mention the death penalty specifically but the British prosecutor, Sir Hartley Shawcross demanded that the Nazis be executed "for common murder."

DREW PEARSON

Washington Merry-Go Round

(Col. R. S. Allen Now on Active Service)

Drew Pearson says: Some Congressmen vote for pocketbook interest rather than public interest—Congress must clean up its Augean stables—Speaker Rayburn vetoes part of Congressional reorganization.

WASHINGTON—Most distressing political development in the nation is the weakening of public confidence in our democratic legislative system. Vire-pulling for war profiteers by Congressmen May of Kentucky, Congressional dawdling over OPA, the influence of cash campaign contributors over Congressional voting, all have weakened confidence in Congress at a time when we can't afford lack of confidence.

This writer happens to be one who believes Congress can be, usually is, a bulwark of our democracy. Furthermore, most of its members are honest, conscientious, hard working. They are a true cross-section of the American people, which is the essence of democracy.

A small minority, however, can damage the reputation of the rest. Long ago, Congress should have adopted rules of conduct to protect its own reputation. But, since it covers up rather than purges wayward members, this column will call the roll of Congressmen who vote for the pocketbook interest rather than the public interest. Here is the first roll call:

Rep. Frank B. Keefe, Wisconsin Republican—led fight to defeat legislation for national cemeteries to bury war dead. Instead, he advocated and won out on a plan to bury war dead in private cemeteries in USA—which means large profits for private cemeteries. Most people don't know it, but Congressman Keefe is president of Lakeview Memorial Park, Oshkosh, Wis., operators of a private cemetery. Keefe, therefore, voted for his pocketbook interest, not the public interest.

Rep. Dean Gillespie, Denver, Col. Republican—called to the end against OPA. He happens to be vice president of Bluhill Foods, Inc., which, on March 22, paid a fine of $1,007.11 to OPA for violating price ceilings on marmalade. His company is now being sued for $13,901.31 treble damages for violating price ceilings on preserves. Congressman Gillespie, therefore, not only let his food company violate price ceilings but voted for his pocketbook interest to abolish OPA.

Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat—made speeches against OPA margins when OPA tried to prevent cotton speculation. While making these speeches, Thomas and his family were speculating on cotton.

Senator Hugh Butler, Nebraska Republican—opposed famine relief shipments of grain to Europe; also voted to remove price ceilings on meat and grain. Butler is a big grain and flour dealer, also raises cattle. He worked for the pocket-

A Bumper Crop of Grandparents...

Child Here Boasts 12 Grandparents Including Mayor

Little Mary Beth McPherson might well reverse the Mother Goose rhyme about the old woman in the shoe, to the little girl in the shoe—who had so many grandparents she didn't know what to do.

For Mary Beth, 12 grandparents to help celebrate her second birthday Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McPherson of Greenville.

The picture was taken at the christening of Mary Beth when she was eight months old. Her father, who at that time was in the U. S. Navy, is now employed in Greenville. Her grandfather, C. Ferris Petersen, is mayor.

Mary Beth's grandparents on her mother's side all live in Greenville and those of the father live in Iowa.

Four Negroes Lynched

By United Press
MONROE, La.—A band of 24 to 30 white men, armed with shotguns, rifles and pistols, waylaid and lynched four Negroes late Thursday in a remote section of Wallon county. Sheriff E. S. Gordon reported today.

The victims were Roger Malcolm, who had just been released on bond on charges of stabbing a white man; Malcolm's wife, George Butler, and Butler's wife.

Gordon said the lynching party ambushed the Negroes as they were being taken to adjoining Oconee county by Lloyd Harris, a white man who had put up Malcolm's bond.

Stopping Harris' car, the band made the Negroes get out and took them over to a clump of woods and huddled their bodies with a fusillade of shots.

Harris, who was not molested, came into Monroe Thursday night and reported the lynching to Sheriff Gordon. Harris said he recognized no members of the lynching band although the men had not attempted to hide their identity with masks.

Veterans are returning to the area in steadily decreasing numbers. There were 175 released during May in Montclair and Ionia counties as compared to 282 the previous month. In June 50 men were released in Montclair county.

Reception Starts Typhoid Epidemic

By United Press
DETROIT—A wedding reception started a typhoid epidemic which caused the death of an 11-year-old boy and left 22 other persons sick, public health officials in suburban Highland Park disclosed today.

The reception was held June 24 in the Highland Park church. William Goff, Jr., 11, of Allen Park died last Friday in Little Traverse hospital at Petoskey. The boy's father also was reported to be under treatment for the disease. Six other persons who were stricken were seriously ill, but now are out of danger.

The disease was not contracted by the bridegroom and bride, Robert Kins, 22, of Romulus, and the former Gail Thompson, 20, of Dearborn.

Undersea Bomb Test Shows 15 Ships Sunk or Badly Hurt

By United Press
OFF BIKINI ATOLL—The Baker Day atomic bomb may claim another capital ship fatality in addition to the 15 ships already listed as probably sunk or badly damaged, an operation crossroads expert predicted today.

The 32,720-ton Japanese battleship Nagato was reported listing eight degrees to starboard, indicating her hull had been reached and her below decks compartments were flooding gradually.

The 27-year-old ship developed a slight list after Thursday's underwater atomic burst which sent the battleship Arkansas, the carrier Saratoga, three smaller vessels and possibly five submarines to the bottom of Bikini's oil-slicked waters.

DR. RALPH A. SAWYER, technical director of Joint Task Force One, believed the Nagato may sink in another 24 to 48 hours.

Meanwhile, Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, operation crossroads commander, braved the "hot" waters of the rainbow-hued lagoon to see for himself what damage the bomb had caused. He personally led a group of correspondents into the lagoon for an inspection tour despite the lingering danger of radioactivity.

WHEN HE RETURNED to his flagship USS Mt. McKinley, he and his officers settled back to await drenching rains which they hope will cleanse the target ships of radioactivity deposited on them by the burst.

Tradewinds have died down completely, giving rise to fears that an excessive calm may delay full recovery into the lagoon longer than the five days originally planned.

Await Effect Of New OPA

By United Press
The great price roll-back began today on rents, most manufactured goods and some foods.

What effect the new OPA extension bill would have on livestock prices was not known immediately. The new law, signed after the markets closed Thursday, provided for restoration of price controls on livestock, meat, dairy and poultry products only if a three-man control board decides that such action is necessary to prevent inflation.

The revived OPA lost no time in restoring rent controls which were in effect when the agency died June 30. Deputy Administrator Ivan D. Carson warned landlords that they would be violating the law if they continued to collect above-ceiling rents. He said leases signed during the interim period were void unless they complied with OPA rules.

Rent control acts passed by some cities and states during the interim were superseded by the new OPA act, Carson said. He said rent increases granted through state and local action no longer would apply.

The new OPA act got only a lukewarm reception from some administration officials.

Firemen Battle Stubborn Dump Blaze
Firemen were called at 9 a. m. today to the Bill Smith Orchard north of Greenville where a small fire had started in a field. The fire was nearly out before firemen reached there. No damage was reported.

Thursday afternoon they extinguished a fire at the city dump back of the high school. They fought the blaze three hours before bringing it under control.

County Group To Give Aid In Polio Cases

The Montclair County Infantile Paralysis committee put its resources at the disposal of poliomyelitis victims in the current outbreak of the dread affliction, Jerry Guykema, county chairman, announced today.

He reported that the parents of Ronald Olsen, 16, who is suffering from polio in a Grand Rapids hospital, have been given financial aid.

Polio Victim Worse

The condition of Ronald Olsen, Greenville high school athlete was worse today, his mother, Mrs. Fred Olsen, Greenville RFD 1, said at 1:15 p. m.

Butterworth hospital attendant said his condition was "dangerous" after contracting pneumonia during the last 24 hours. He spent a bad night, they said.

GUYKEMA FURTHER SAID that he has been assured added assistance, if necessary, from the state and National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis by Donald Thurber, Detroit, state field representative for the organization.

Three other cases have been reported in the county, all in Lakeview. These cases were not regarded as serious by attending physicians. All are being treated in their homes.

State health authorities caution that the peak for polio cases is not expected for five or six weeks, adding that the outbreak of polio appears to be coming earlier this year than in recent years.

Forty cases have been reported in Michigan since last January including six last week. In hopes that precautions may reduce the number of polio victims, the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis makes the following suggestions:

Avoid new contacts—Try not to mingle with crowds unnecessarily. Watch these symptoms—Headache, unexplained fever, a cold, even upset stomach may be the first symptoms of polio.

Call your doctor immediately if any of these symptoms appear. Expert medical care may help prevent crippling.

Remember to carry on your normal activities. Infantile paralysis can not be prevented but few of those stricken develop serious illness and, with good care, the majority make a satisfactory recovery.

Don't worry about expense—If polio strikes, get in touch with the local chapter of the National Foundation.

Sheridan Woman Dies Suddenly

SHERIDAN—Mrs. Alta A. Stoddard, resident of Sheridan 44 years, died unexpectedly Thursday at her home. She was 78 years old.

Mrs. Stoddard was born Oct. 28, 1867 in New York. On July 4, 1887, she married Elmer E. Stoddard, former publisher of the Sheridan Advertiser.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Ladies Aid of the Congregational church. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. E. R. Chapman, Traverse City, Mrs. James Wood, Sheridan; two granddaughters, two great-granddaughters, and one brother, Herbert Clough of Lyons.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at St. John's funeral home. Rev. S. J. Hedley of Charlotte will officiate. Burial will be in Muir cemetery.

Tension Still High

By United Press
JERUSALEM—British police and intelligence agents supported by mobile patrols today rounded up more than 1,000 persons suspected of carrying out attacks and violent operations.

Many of those arrested had been taken into custody in previous roundups but were released on parole with a requirement that they remain in their homes after sunset and report to the police twice a day.

These persons were arrested in their homes or when they went to police stations to report. Patrols also arrested all Jews who had been detained in Eritrea and released only recently.

TENSION WAS HIGH throughout the Holy Land. When an armed

Signs Bill But Will Ask Change If It Fails Nation

WASHINGTON—(UP)—OPA today shoved the bulk of the nation's economy back under price control, restoring most prices and rents to June 30 levels.

President Truman warned, however, it would be a tough job to keep them there—or anywhere near it.

He reluctantly signed the weakened OPA extension bill, and warned Congress he would call a special session to amend it if it failed to stem an inflationary spiral.

Price Administrator Paul A. Porter said, "We think it will work."

Push Full Scale Probe Against Garsson Firms

WASHINGTON—The Senate war investigating committee today asked the general accounting office to make a full scale investigation into alleged "war profiteering by the Garsson munitions combine."

WASHINGTON—The attorney for Rep. Andrew J. May, D., Ky., said today it would be a week and perhaps longer before the 71-year-old Congressman, now ill from a heart attack, would be able to testify at a Senate war profits investigation.

The attorney, Warren Magee, appeared before an unusually early morning session of the Senate war investigating committee to report officially that May, who suffered the heart attack late Thursday, would be unable to testify this morning as scheduled.

Magee said he would not tell just when the 71-year-old Congressman would be able to come, but added: "Certainly not within a week—and it may be longer."

Chairman James D. Mead, D., N. Y., after calling the session to order asked: "Is Rep. Andrew J. May in the room?"

There was no response. "Is his attorney here?" Mead asked.

MAGEE, A SHORT, dark-haired man, walked over to the witness chair. He said that he did not want to be sworn in, but he would be very happy to explain why his client was absent.

Then Magee told of being notified early Thursday evening that May had had a heart attack and was "very ill."

Magee said that May's physician, Dr. Henry Lowden had told him he would be "very happy" to come before the committee if asked.

May was confined to his apartment in a downtown hotel and the last word from his family was that he was "very sick." The hotel switchboard was instructed to accept no calls for the May apartment.

THE COMMITTEE HAD asked May to testify and answer charges that he was embezzled in the hydro-headed wartime activities of a mid-west munitions combine accused of profiteering on $78,000,000 of Army contracts. He was stricken late Thursday during a Senate-House conference on the atomic energy control bill.

Garsson Resigns As Company Head

By United Press
CHICAGO—Dr. Henry M. Garsson today prepared to bow out as president of the Batavia Metal Products, Inc., because of unfavorable publicity received during a Senate investigation of the company's war profits.

Garsson, head of the "paper empire" whose $78,000,000 in war contracts is under Senate scrutiny, said he made a "purchase agreement" for sale of his interest in the concern to a Detroit firm.

"My usefulness to the company has been impaired by recent publicity," he said.

At the time, Garsson defended in an interview the methods of the company and the Erie Metal Products Co., which he said, were the same as those used by "practically every large corporation in the country and by the government itself."

Both companies are part of a midwest munitions combine headed by Garsson and his older brother, Murray.

LARGE CAFETERIAS were provided where food was served at cost. Job satisfaction also includes opportunity for advancement. With-out variation, the policy of each company visited was that all promotions would be made from within its own personnel. This policy stimulated employees to take advantage of education and training opportunities.

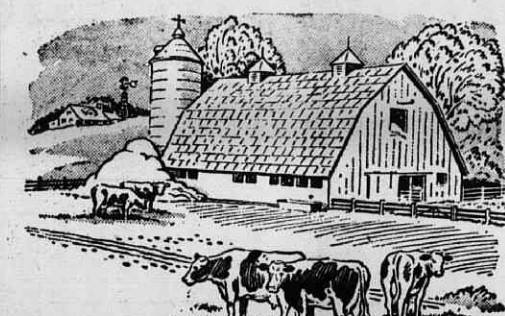

Part-time education was offered either by the company or through co-operation with high schools and colleges. In many places company time was used, while in others tuition reimbursement to the employee was made on the basis of scholarship.

Counseling was offered by most companies through various means, either specially selected personnel, or through supervisors. This covered everything—legal, medical, G. I. job and personal problems. School men found different degrees of success in the different concerns.

BOTH UNIONS and industry offered additional after work hours recreation, covering physical, social and cultural interests. As health was of first consideration, clinics were found in all industrial and business—although most were especially designed for first aid and diagnosis, many were prepared and equipped to give treatment, both dental and medical. These clinics would serve seven to ten thousand employees.

Other benefits were special insurance and pension plans supplementary to the Social Security requirements and benefits.

In the period December 7, 1941 to May 31, 1943, American railroads moved about 26 million troops for an average trip of 80 miles.

Tigers Drop Second in Row To Senators

By United Press

DETROIT—It was Fireball Virgil Trucks' turn on the mound today as the Detroit Tigers faced Philadelphia at Briggs Stadium.

The Athletics moved into Detroit to find the Tigers smarting from loss of a three-game series to the Washington Senators. The Nats pulled out of town Thursday after drubbing five Tiger pitchers for 13 hits and an 8-3 victory, to gain a 2 to 1 edge in the series.

Trucks, who has a record of wins against seven losses, this season, probably will be opposed by Dick Fowler, who has won seven while losing eight.

Freddie Hutchinson was charged with Thursday's defeat. He retired after six innings during which the Senators sewed up the game with five runs and eight hits.

Of the four hurlers who followed Hutchinson, only Frank Overmire toiled with any effectiveness. Entering the game in the ninth with the bases loaded and one out, he promptly retired the side.

Johnny Gorsica, Hal White and George Caster were the other Tiger relief pitchers.

The right-handed offerings of Rae Scarborough were not much to the liking of Detroit's batsmen. Scarborough held them to eight hits, and had a shutout until the seventh when the Tigers pushed across two runs with the aid of a single by Roy Cullenbine, a walk to Jimmy Outlaw, and Jimmy Bloodworth's two-bagger.

Mickey Vernon set the pace for Washington's sluggers, contributing four hits in four trips to the plate. His double in the first scored one of two Senator runs in that inning, and he led off with a single in the fourth when two more runs were scored. He later poked out two more singles.

Hank Greenberg, with two singles, shared Tiger batting honors with Bloodworth, who had a single in addition to his double. Detroit's only other extra base blow was a double by Eddie Lake.

Vander Meer Wins Sixth Straight

By CARL LUNDQUIST
(United Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK — Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati southpaw, shut out the Braves at Boston Thursday night, 1 to 0, on four hits. Wildness by Johnny Sain in the eighth, plus two fielding lapses gave the Reds their run without a hit. Bobby Adams scoring when Second Baseman Connie Ryan threw away a double play ball.

The Dodgers lengthened their lead to a game and a half with a significant 4 to 1 victory over the Cubs at Brooklyn, in which Hal Gregg proved he was ready once more to be a dependable starter. Gregg, who suffered a muscle injury on May 14, hadn't won a game since May 1, but mastered the Cubs most of the way, getting into trouble only in the eighth when he gave up three straight singles for their only run.

The Cardinals, bidding for their fifth straight sweep of a double header had to settle for a split at New York, winning the opener, 2 to 1 behind the clutch pitching of Howie Pollet, then dropping the second game, 6 to 1 as Montie Kennedy pitched a three-hit game for the Giants. Bill Voiselle who threw only four pitches in the opener, was sent to a hospital as the losing pitcher when Red Schoendienst smashed a line drive against his knee for a single after which Harry Walker homered. Voiselle's knee injury is expected to keep him out for two or three weeks. After the Walker homer, Mike Budnick pitched a shutout ball. Kennedy received 12-hit support including a homer by Jack Graham as the Giants beat the Cards for the 10th time in 16 starts.

The Pirates beat the Phils at Philadelphia, 2 to 1 on John Lanning's pitching, then dropped a 9 to 2 decision in which ex-Cardinal pitcher Sylvester (Blix) Donnelly hurled a six-hit game in his Philly debut. Homers by Frankie McCormick, with two men ahead, and by rookie Del Ennis gave Donnelly enough runs. Bob Elliott hit a Pirate homer and scored the first game winning run after smashing a triple.

The White Sox beat the Red Sox for the sixth time in nine games at Chicago this year, winning 3 to 1 as lefty Edgar Smith rattled the league leaders with eight singles. The defeat reduced Boston's first place edge to 11 games.

Relief Pitcher Joe Berry won his own game against his ex-teammates.

the Athletics, when he doubled and scored after two singles to give the Indians a 9 to 8 win at Cleveland. They made 19 hits, their season high, off four pitchers. Hank Edwards got his second homer in as many days.

CIO Pledges More Buyers' Strikes

By United Press

DETROIT—Buyers' strikes promised to become even more widespread here today despite restoration of the OPA.

Walter P. Reuther, head of the CIO's United Auto Workers union, spearheaded the development with a charge that the new OPA measure "only pretends to restore price control" and appealed to 800,000 members of the UAW to continue their efforts to force down prices. "Enactment of the price-control bill which President Truman signed Thursday emphasizes the necessity of consumers continuing their buyers' strikes in Detroit and all over the country in order to stop inflation."

Reuther said. "The people must not permit themselves to be deceived into believing that because this law has been passed and signed they now have legal protection against profiteering and speculation." Simultaneously the Wayne county board of auditors launched a meat strike, refusing to buy beef for county institutions despite a 60 per cent drop in bid prices in three weeks.

Just a Bit o' Flight Chatter

Flew in another Piper Cub from the factory in Pennsylvania last week. That makes four for us now. Plenty of planes for plenty of students.

After only six weeks of instruction, Rex Nelson has received his private pilot's license. Another example of a local vet learning the art of flying through the GI Bill of Rights.

John Bower and Charles Fuller have soloed this week. Their take-offs and landings were perfect. Mastering the controls of a Piper Cub.

Dr. Norman Green and C. J. (Fritz) Allen flew to the Dawn Patrol at Alma. They spent a most enjoyable morning there, arriving just in time for breakfast.

Five new students have been enrolled at the Flying Service this week. They are: Leon Wooster, Raymond Bowman, Munson Foster, Jr., Carl Tower and Ken Stewart. The group is composed of men from the Harvard area.

Harold Carter and myself flew to Muskegon and then to Grand Rapids as part of Harold's training program. Harold is working for a cross-country license.

A two-engine Cessna dropped down on the field a few days ago from Quincy, Mich. They picked up a few much needed parts from the Federal-Mogul plant here and then headed back to Quincy. Cargo by air is coming into its own!

Sam Rayburn's Veto

SOVIET Ambassador Gromyko is supposed to be the great wilder of the veto, but in a recent secret conference, good old Sam Rayburn of Texas did a little vetoing of his own. In effect, he took a large blue pencil and ran it through three important sections of the Senate bill to reorganize Congress. GOP Leader Joe Martin added the extra veto of his own.

The Congressional reorganization bill, authored by Wisconsin's Senator Bob La Follette and Oklahoma's Rep. Mike Monroney, is aimed to help win back national respect of Congress.

Able Speaker Rayburn, in general, is behind the move to reform Congress. But, meeting in a "closed-door session" with other leaders, he swung his veto on three provisions. They were:
1. Appointment of an $8,000-a-year executive assistant for each member of Congress. Rayburn felt this would partially remove a Congressman from contact with his constituents. Several other leaders agreed.
2. Each committee to hold monthly sessions at which any member would ask debate on a bill previously pigeonholed by the committee chairman. Rayburn vetoed this, but many Congressmen disagree with him. They complain that such dictatorial committee chairmen as May of Kentucky can bottle up important legislation indefinitely giving other Congressmen no chance to pry it loose. Had this provision for free committee debate been operating, some of the Erie Basin scandals might not have occurred under other Congressmen's noses.

Joe Martin's Veto

3 NO more special investigating committees. This was where Republican Leader Joe Martin exercised his veto with Rayburn, backing him up. Martin felt that special investigating committees are frequently necessary.

4. The proposed legislative-executive council; also the majority-minority policy committees. The reorganization bill provides that the Democrats shall set up a policy committee and receive $30,000 annually to pay for research experts to help formulate party policy. It also provides the same policy committee and same $30,000 for the Republicans.

But Speaker Rayburn was vigorously opposed. So was his assistant, John McCormack of Massachusetts.

"I don't want any debating societies around me," protested Sam. "I've got enough to do without arguing everything with six other men."

So he wielded the veto. (Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
